FOREWORD

"School days! School days!
Good old happy school days!"

This 1951 edition of the "Mirror" is based on that happy theme, school days. Since this year's seniors represent the 100th graduating class, we of the "Mirror" Staff thought a flashback to about 100 years ago would prove interesting. All through this edition you will find the happy-go-lucky schoolboy of our grandfather's time with his baggy pants, bare feet, and hair sticking up on end.

We shall point out the changes which have been made in this year's "Mirror" and show the results of an overhauling in style. Curriculum is represented as usual, but the clubs have been arranged in a different fashion. A complete review, in summary form, of their aims and activities follows this section instead of appearing under the pictures as formerly. The musical organizations, the Student Association groups, and the athletic units also appear in this new form.

The Senior Class of 1951 is honored by much larger senior pictures although there are 93 in the graduating class as compared to 86 last year. This has been made possible by an alphabetical listing of individual activities immediately following the pictures. A page is also devoted to the senior officers, class colors, flower, motto, sponsors, and activities.

JAMES DiGUILIO

Mr. James C. DeGuilo, proprietor of the Family Shoe Shop on Medina's Main Street, has been the only new member of the Board of Education this year. Mr. DiGuilio received his appointment last fall following the resignation of Mr. Robert Menke, who had accepted a position in another part of the state and was leaving Medina. To Mr. DeGuilio, as well as to the other eight Board of Education members, the "Mirror" Staff expresses its appreciation for their interest and service.

Vice-Principal Edward Devlin interviews the new biology teacher, Mr. Sorochty.

GUIDANCE

Guidance is a service through which the school helps students to make their social, educational, vocational, and moral adjustments in a modern world. Among the techniques used are homeroom discussions, personal interviews with individual pupils, and testing of aptitudes, needs, and achievements. Mrs. Olga Hinckley is the chairman and Miss Dahlquist, the ninth grade adviser, her assistant. Grade advisers and homeroom teachers supplement their services.

Curriculum Director Clifford Wise studies school reorganization problems.

SUPERVISION

What would Medina High School do without Vice-Principal Edward A. Devlin? In his hands lie the discipline and the physical welfare of the student. He sponsors the Student Council and acts as adviser for other student government activities.

Mr. Devlin works with teachers, particularly newcomers, to help them make their adjustment in community and school life. He supervises janitorial work, building needs, and school supplies.

Eager students discuss college prospects with Mrs. Olga Hinckley, guidance director.

CURRICULUM

Plans are being made for a curriculum organization to include the needs of all youth. The emphasis in the future will be upon meaningful experiences that cut across subject areas and make possible better understanding and preparation for life. With these broadened objectives, the physical, mental, emotional, and social development of each individual will be stressed.

Homemaking instructors: Dorothy H. Neal (homemaking), Catherine B. Bartlett (homemaking and cafeteria management).

The Office Staff: Elsie Quintern, bookkeeper; Helen Heady, registrar; Mildred Howlett, secretary to superintendent; Melsa Ellsmore, receptionist.

CURRICULUM

Discussions in small groups are a feature of Miss Hall's English II classes.

SPEECH: VISUAL EDUCATION

One of the basic factors of success is the ability to speak well in every-day conversation and in addressing groups. In speech classes students learn to express themselves effectively and to understand the fundamentals of public speaking. Experience is gained through introducing assembly speakers and participation in several assembly programs.

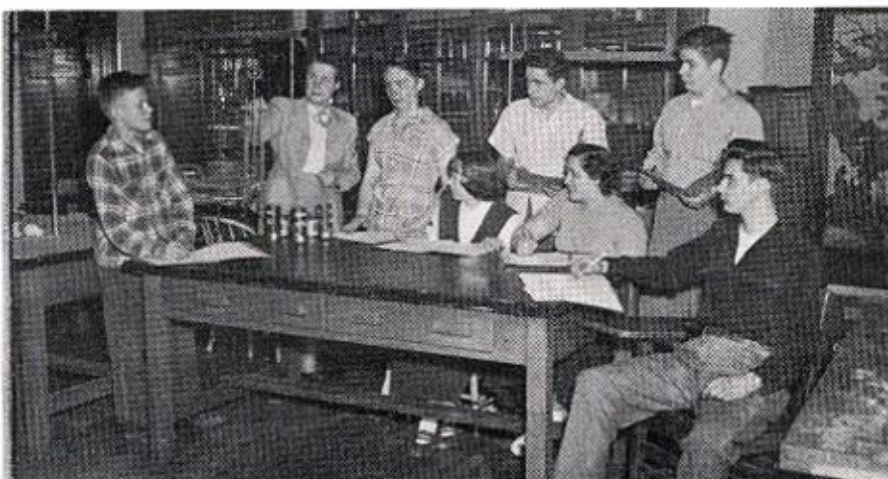

In all subjects, class material is supplemented by the use of films. Discussion of the movies shown precedes and follows each presentation.

Mr. Coats' American history class "brushes up" on the geography of the United States.

MATHEMATICS

In Junior High School all mathematical work is aimed toward practical use in later life. The eighth graders visited the bank on one of their field trips, an important part of the math course. Elementary algebra, plane geometry, intermediate algebra, and solid geometry made up the high school math schedule for this year. Through study of these subjects students acquire habits of accuracy and logical thinking.

To a general science group, Miss Boardman gives a scientific demonstration.

ENGLISH: JOURNALISM

Emphasis in each English course is placed upon oral and written expression. In each class, basic grammatical skills are stressed. Oral reports afford valuable experience in group speaking. Reading habits are bettered by vocabulary study and library work. Extra reading is encouraged particularly for prospective college students.

Business English stresses correct speech, letter-writing, and the vocabulary of business. Journalism gives actual practice in gathering, writing, and editing copy for the "M. H. S. News".

Spelling is reviewed by one of Mr. Needham's English-social studies core groups.

SOCIAL STUDIES

In the present serious world situation, knowledge of social studies has great importance. Through textbooks, weekly newspapers, films, and classroom discussions, students develop pride in democratic ideals, a sense of the duties and privileges of citizenship and a perception of other governments. Knowledge was gained through experience when eighth grade history classes were divided into the branches of the federal government and passed actual bills.

Geometry problems are being diligently solved by interested sophomores and juniors.

SCIENCE

"Experience is the best teacher." This is the main principle behind the instruction in science in Medina High School. In ninth year general science many demonstrations illustrate scientific reasoning. On their visit to the Buffalo Roswell Park Cancer Clinic, biology students have been given eye-witness views of how enemies of life are combated. Experiments supplement the class work of chemistry and physics pupils.

CURRICULUM

Reading letters from foreign students enlivens the study of a French class.

THE LIBRARIES

Each and every student finds the library a peaceful and relaxing place in which to browse and study. In both the Public and the School Libraries, those in charge willingly help students to find materials they desire. This year classes from the seventh to the twelfth grades visited the School Library during class periods in order to learn the proper use of the library and the arrangement of its materials.

Secretarial practice girls demonstrate the different kinds of work they do.

HOMEMAKING

The American home is the basis of American democracy. Because of this, emphasis is placed upon establishing a good home. There are two aims common to all homemaking courses: learning to make adjustments to group living and cooperating with members of the family to make a happier home. Additionally, students learn skills in food preparation and nutrition, personal cleanliness, home nursing, sewing, and family relations.

Harmony and rudiments of music pupils get a lesson in ear training from their teacher.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

A grammatical approach as well as a knowledge of France and her culture is offered French pupils. Films and slides give a better perception of the countryside, cities, products, art, and famous buildings. Students are also carrying on correspondence with boys and girls of France. This year the Latin classes arranged a radio broadcast with a script written and presented by Latin pupils.

The School Library is a place of quiet during most periods of the school day.

BUSINESS

More and more, commercial education seems to concentrate on teaching skills and techniques in shorthand, book-keeping, retailing, and typing that will enable the student to perform them proficiently enough to secure employment immediately following high school graduation. The business world and government agencies are increasingly in need of skilled office workers, and Medina High School has higher goals to achieve than ever before.

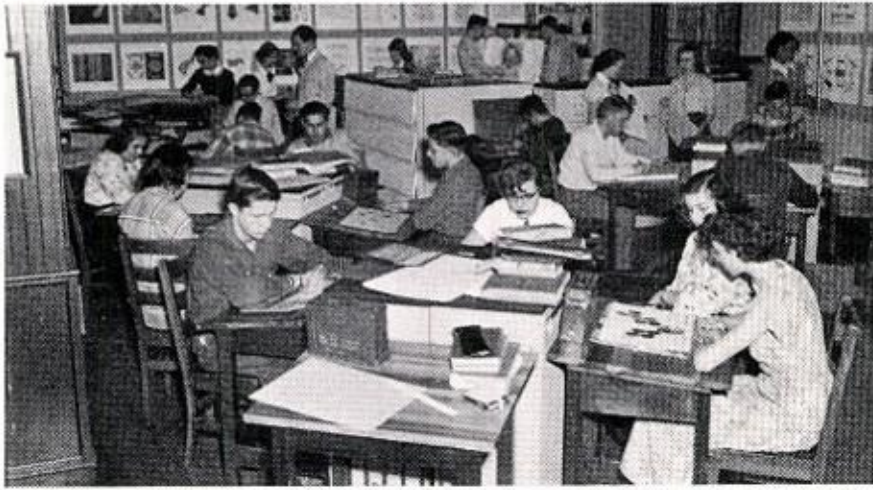

Proud homemaking students pose with some of the pies they have just made.

MUSIC

"For the heights and depths no word can reach,
God gave men music, the soul's own speech."

In the lower grades, music classes emphasize folk and national music. In high school, performing groups give students an opportunity to hear and perform music of all types. In theory classes, elements of music and the way they all work together to produce the desired results are learned.

CURRICULUM

Future artists try to finish their plates before the marking Period deadline.

THE INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Bignall's Foundry donated two cash awards for the best vises made by vocational machine shop students from castings furnished by Bignall's. Another contest was staged by the same company for the construction of woodworking lathes. A set of stencils used for lettering traffic signs on streets was made for the village. School forms, the weekly newspaper, tickets, and blotters were run off by the members of printing classes.

Agriculture students and their instructor examine different types of grains.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Correctness, cooperation, and sportsmanship are the aims behind the physical education courses. The skills and fundamentals of each sport are first worked out and then put into practice through spirited games. The major sports played seasonally in the Boys' Gym classes are football, basketball, baseball, tennis, and track.

In the girls' physical education classes, the members participate in volleyball, soccer, basketball, softball, and folk dancing.

Health Teacher Edith Grant explains an eye chart to four interested students.

THE FINE ARTS

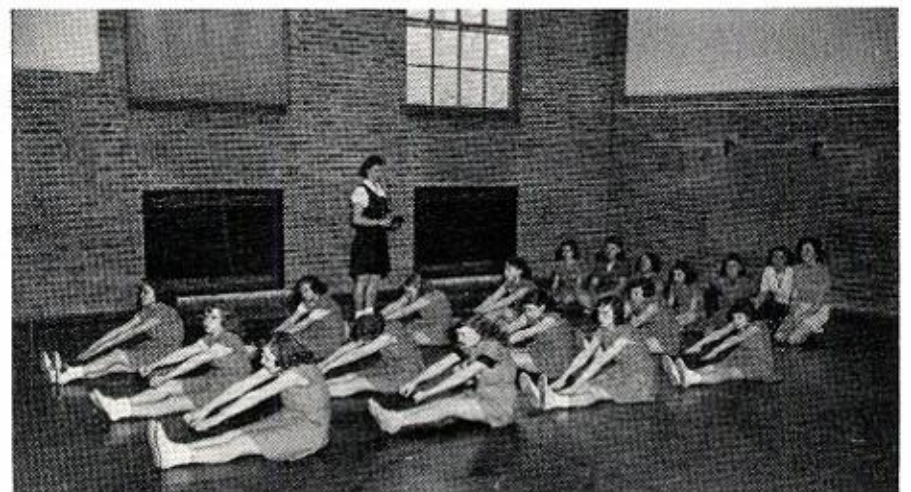

Because every one is a constant consumer and an occasional producer of art products, the Art Department tries to develop, through experimentation and practice with the materials and tools of art, an appreciation of art and a development of skill in various art fields. In the lower grades, the pupil is encouraged to develop and apply critical analysis and a feeling for form. Advanced courses make art work enjoyable and practical to those of both limited and special interests.

Posters, programs, and tickets are printed in our own High School print shop.

AGRICULTURE

Agriculture becomes a more specialized and extensive business enterprise each year. In the agricultural classes dairy, fruit, and general farming problems are discussed. Supervised farming projects, field trips, and participation on judging teams at the Lockport and the New York State Fairs have added to the knowledge of the agricultural student. Through these experiences students are prepared for expert and skilled farming in the future.

Girls limber up in gym class by means of toe-touching and stretching exercises.

HEALTH

Through health, the student is alerted to the methods of living in home, school, and community. The health course provides: information on the structure and functions of the body; the causes, preventions, and cure of major diseases; mental and emotional health; accident prevention; first aid measures; child care; and a wholesome home life. Eating habits, cleanliness, attractiveness, and social behavior in daily living are improved.

CURRICULUM

No pushing! Mrs. Amis provides enough food for everyone.

Retailing students learn how advertising helps sell products.

Under Mr. Swanekamp's guidance Junior High art pupils use water colors.

"R. C." amuses the chemistry class with his results.

All sorts of useful objects are made in the High School shop.

Fundamental "do's" and "don't's" are correctly explained to driving students.

SENIOR CLASS ACTIVITIES

The ninety-three members of the Class of 1951 have been active in all types of extra-curricular activities—athletic, class, club, publication, and Student Association.

Among their class projects to earn money for their school gift have been the sale of candy to the delegates at the All-State Music Festival held here last November and the presentation of an All-Medina-High-School talent show in May.

"With the rope of the past, we ring the bells of the future" is their motto; maroon and silver, their colors; the white rose, their flower.

Miss Ruth DeLand and Miss Ermie Boardman are the class sponsors.

JUNIOR CLASS ACTIVITIES

Seventy-five persons make up the membership of the Junior Class, of which Joanne Kenward is president, Carol Ruger vice-president, and Barbara Bielak secretary-treasurer.

Officers for the three junior home rooms are: 302—Joyce Hickman, president; Ralph Morse, vice-president; Jean Lattin, secretary; Lucretia Dujenski, treasurer; 304—Joan Reed, president Mary Jeanne O'Brien, vice-president; Douglas Towne, secretary-treasurer; 306—Vromene Higby, president; Tom O'Brien, vice-president; Joyce Allport, secretary-treasurer. Home room sponsors are Messrs. Burton Thomas and Joseph Coats and Miss Elsa Ferguson respectively.

Projects for the year have included a Christmas party and the Junior Prom.

THE STUDENT ASSOCIATION

Four Student Association officers—Stanley Wieczorek, president; Philip Distefano, vice-president; Mildred Tuohey, secretary; and Ann Morrissey, treasurer—together with the Chief Justice of the Honor Court, Robin Skinner, and five appointive faculty sponsors make up the Student Association Committee of which Sup't. Arthur E. Trippensee is chairman. This group formulates policies affecting student extra-curricular activities, makes final approval of the S. A. budget, and sanctions the use of the S. A. funds for Student Room improvement.

The Finance Committee consists of the sponsor, Miss Mabel Dahlquist, and a representative of each of the councils and units of service in the school. It plans the Student Association budget, supervises S. A. ticket sales, and keeps financial records of income and disbursements.

Sponsored by Miss Ruth DeLand, the Activities Board, which coordinates extra-curricular activities and assumes responsibility for the annual Honors Convocation, is made up of the faculty sponsor and the presidents of the Club, the Athletic, and the Safety and Welfare Councils.

Vice-Principal Edward Devlin is the sponsor of the Student Council, which consists of one representative from each home room through the tenth grade, two representatives from each Junior Homeroom, and eight from the Senior. The S. A. president, Stanley Wieczorek, is the chairman and Nancy Paine, its secretary. The Student Council discusses and passes upon problems and legislation affecting student extra-curricular activities. This year the Student Council has sponsored dancing lessons as a special project.

Headed by its sponsor, Miss Ruth DeLand, and the vice-president of the Student Association, Philip Distefano, the Club Council coordinates the work of the clubs, determines its policies, and regulates them. Through this council, funds are allocated to the various organizations under its jurisdiction. Its membership consists of the presidents of the various clubs. This year the council gave temporary approval to the formation of the new Debate Club.

ORGANIZATION

The Honor Court has nine members chosen by the Chief Justice, Robin Skinner, and approved by the Student Council. The Chief Justice is appointed by the S. A. president, and his appointment is approved by the Student Council. The Honor Court tries cases related to the violation of school regulations and decrees penalties for offenses when the accused persons have been found guilty. Mr. Austin Martin is faculty sponsor.

Encouragement of interest in school athletic games is the purpose of the Athletic Council, whose sponsor is Mr. Burton Thomas. This group prepares the athletic budget and allocates aid to athletic units. Its membership consists of one representative from each home room except the Senior, which has eight. Wilmer Seaver is its president.

Under Mrs. Catherine Bartlett's direction, the Safety and Welfare Council tries to achieve cooperation between M.H.S. students and the public. Its membership is composed of four representatives from the Senior Homeroom, and one from each of the other homerooms in the High School building. Special projects this year have been the March of Dimes, the Red Cross and the Goodwill Industries Campaigns, the making of gifts for veterans' hospitals, and taking charge of the clinic when Miss Grant is unable to be present. Marcia Ives is the president.

Composed of 51 members and the sponsor, Mr. William Matson, the Service Union provides ushers for school entertainments, punches tickets at school noon-hour movies, and maintains order in the cafeteria, the games room, and the noon-hour study halls. Mildred Tuohey, S.A. secretary, is chairman. The Union sponsored a dance on April 27.

Under the sponsorship of Mr. David Blasdel, thirty-six boys of the Legion of Honor patrol the halls and maintain order during the noon hour and special occasions. John Hydock is president and George Hotchkiss, secretary. A special project this year has been the sponsorship of the Christmas

PUBLICATIONS

Earliest of publications at Medina High School was the "Mirror", the first edition of which was published in 1912 with Harold Ryan, a post graduate student, as its editor. For several years, quarterly issues were printed. In 1918, the first "Mirror" yearbook was published. From then until 1934, all types of literature including essays, short stories, plays, and poems were accepted for publication. Through the years, the "Mirror" has won blue ribbons, first and second place awards from the Western New York and the Columbia Scholastic Press Associations, and a Buffalo Evening News trophy.

This year's staff has twenty members. Its personnel follows:

This year's Scribblers' Staff consisting of twenty-one members is headed by Angela Leone, editor, and Verna Handt and Ruth Myers, assistant editors. Under the direction of Miss Carol Hall, the Staff reads carefully each contribution of poetry or prose submitted to it and chooses those selections showing the most literary talent and originality.

Officers of the Scribblers' Club are Angela Leone, president; Dorothy Fidinger, vice-president; Verna Handt, secretary; and Ruth Myers, treasurer. Miss Carol Hall is sponsor.

CLUBS

Medina High School has 29 clubs; 3 honor societies—the Arista, Wakapa, and Star; 4 service organizations—the Audio-Visual, Ergonians, Legion of Honor, and Junior Girls'; 9 curricular—the Art, Commercial, Debate, Future Farmers, Mathematics, and Junior and Senior Physical Fitness, and the Junior and Senior Science; 13 hobby—the Airplane, Junior Boys', Senior and Junior Dramatic, Leisure Time, Library, Masque and Gavel, Motion Picture, Senior and Junior Photography, Radio Broadcast, Rifle, and Stamp.

Several years ago a local chapter of the National Honor Society was organized. From the upper third scholastically, fifteen percent of the current graduating class are chosen by a faculty committee for their character, scholarship, leadership, and service to the school. Last year thirteen seniors were awarded their National Honor Society pins on Commencement Night. These persons so honored were: Richard Axtell, Emily Ann Bird, Kay Calafates, Ann Crafts, Margaret Delahanty, Louise Derski, Sally Dunn, Lois Field, Marilyn Nohle, Margaret Paul, Jean Richard, Betsey Robbins, and Barbara Tuohey.

MUSICAL ORGANIZATIONS

Medina High School students have an opportunity to participate in a variety of musical ensembles. These groups provide valuable training for those who wish to make music a career, as well as for those who merely get enjoyment from the art.

The musical organizations of M.H.S. provide music for various school and community affairs, and most of the groups have taken part this year in the radio broadcasts.

The Senior Band has played for home football and basketball games, assemblies, and Sports-Night. The A Capella Choir has taken part in the Christmas Assembly and has sung at a meeting of the Medina Chamber of Commerce.

Every Friday music is provided for noon-hour dancing by the Dance Band. The Sportsmen have appeared in assembly and have sung at a tea sponsored by the Berean Class of the Methodist Church. Baton-Twirling has been done at the home football games and at one of the basketball games by the Majorettes.

The Junior High Chorus, the Senior High Chorus, and the Ninth Grade Chorus also sang in the Christmas Assembly.

The Junior Band, which serves as a feeder for the Senior Band, appeared in the Junior Spring Concert.

The Orchestra members provided music for the Senior Dramatic Club play, a radio program, and assemblies.

The String Ensemble consisting of four members of the string section of the orchestra has studied classical and semi-classical music for strings.

THE ALL-STATE MUSIC FESTIVAL

The 1950 All-State Music Festival of the New York State School Music Association was held in Medina High School on November 17 and 18. Taking part in the festival were a 150-voice choir, a 73-piece orchestra, and a 98-piece band.

The conductor of the choir was Dr. Joseph Saetveit; of the orchestra, Mr. Adelbert Purga; and of the band, Mr. Robert Rosevear. Medina's Mr. Edwin R. Feller was general chairman.

Two days were given over to rehearsals with a concert taking place on the evening of November 18. On the previous evening a dance was held for the participants.

Representing Medina in the Choir were: Maxine Bolton, Joyce Hickman, Nancy Lercher, Virginia Mix, sopranos; Joan Reed, Janet Snyder, Janet Yarrington, altos; Gerald Ruger, Stanley Wiczorek, tenors; William Gibson, Walter Kusmierczak, basses. Medina students in the orchestra were: Vromene Higby, Janice Nohle, Donald Robbins, Jean White, violins; Marilyn Hunter, Churlene Rogers, clarinets; Helen Hazel, saxophone; Joan Cory, French horn. Band members were: Barbara Robinson, oboe; Patricia Moriarity, John Roach, clarinets; Neil McKernan, trumpet; Dennison Heuer, trombone; Carlton Wise, sousaphone; Donn Howleh, Charles Ingersoll, Leona Plumley, drums.

SPORTS

SPORTS SUMMARY

Although the M. H. S. Varsity football team lost more games than it won, it scored more total points than its opponents. The Red and Blue triumphed over Akron by a 19 to 0 score and over Griffith by a 26 to 6 score in consecutive games. The grand finale of the season with Albion ended in a win for Medina, 26 to 6. Coach Parsons felt that the 3 won-4 lost record that the team posted was not a true picture of its ability.

"The best Jayvee squad since J. V. football was first started in Medina" is the opinion of Coaches McAllister and Coats concerning this year's Jayvee team, which posted a 2 won-3 lost record. The Jayvees trimmed Akron, 26 to 0, and LeRoy, 6 to 0, losing two games by one point, 7 to 6, to Depew and East Aurora. The squad lost to Amherst also by a 6 to 0 score.

Once again Medina had a fine tennis team which was coached by Edward Swanekamp. The squad had a record of 6 wins and 2 losses for the season, and it took top spot in the G-O. Loop. Medina's two losses were at the hands of Amherst and Nichols, both by close 3 to 2 scores.

After holding a 3-3 record early in the season, the Medina Varsity basketball squad slumped and won only one other game during the season. Two of the Red and Blue's wins were over Holley. The other victories were league wins over Albion and Oakfield.

Junior Varsity basketball players posted a somewhat better record of 6 wins and 8 losses. Among the victories by Coach Miller's Jayvees were double wins over Amherst and Oakfield along with those over Albion and Middleport. Two of the Jayvee wins were by two-point margins over Albion and Oakfield, while one of the Amherst games was won by Medina by a 31 to 30 score.

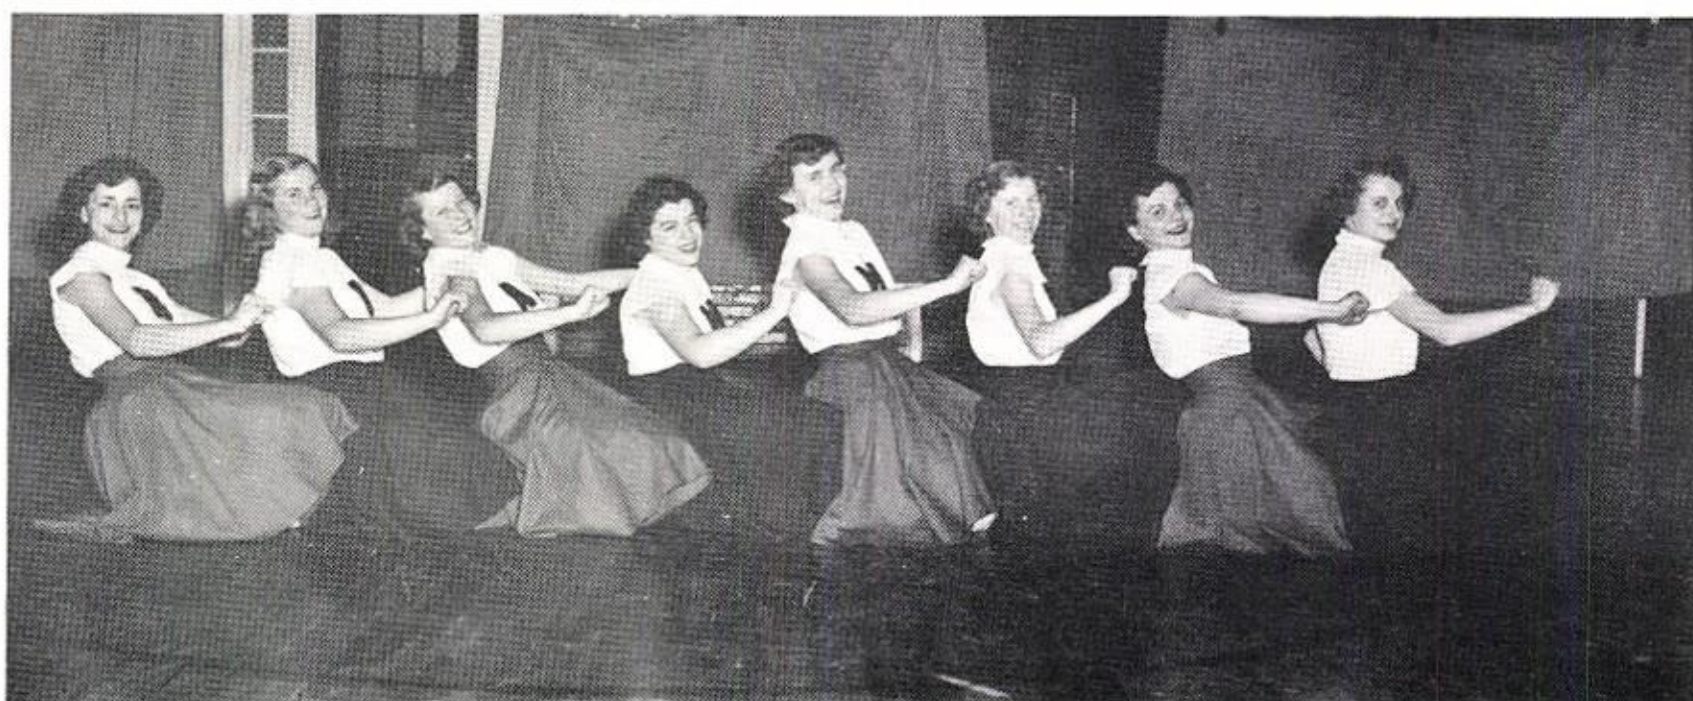

Baseball also was a reasonably successful sport. The Medina team took a record of 6 wins and 7 losses. The Red and Blue team split the home-and-home series with all teams except Albion, which Medina trimmed twice; Batavia, which defeated M. H.S. twice; and Oakfield, a game which was rained out after three innings with the score tied, 1 to 1.

The M. H. S. track team squad won two meets, the first a triangular one with Alexander and Attica, and the other, a meet with Akron. Six members of the squad placed in the Genesee-Orleans contest, and two went to the sectionals at Rochester.

The wrestling team, which participated in two meets, was an addition to Medina's list of sports. It lost the first meet to Albion by a 33 to 23 score and placed fourth in the Genesee-Orleans wrestling meet.

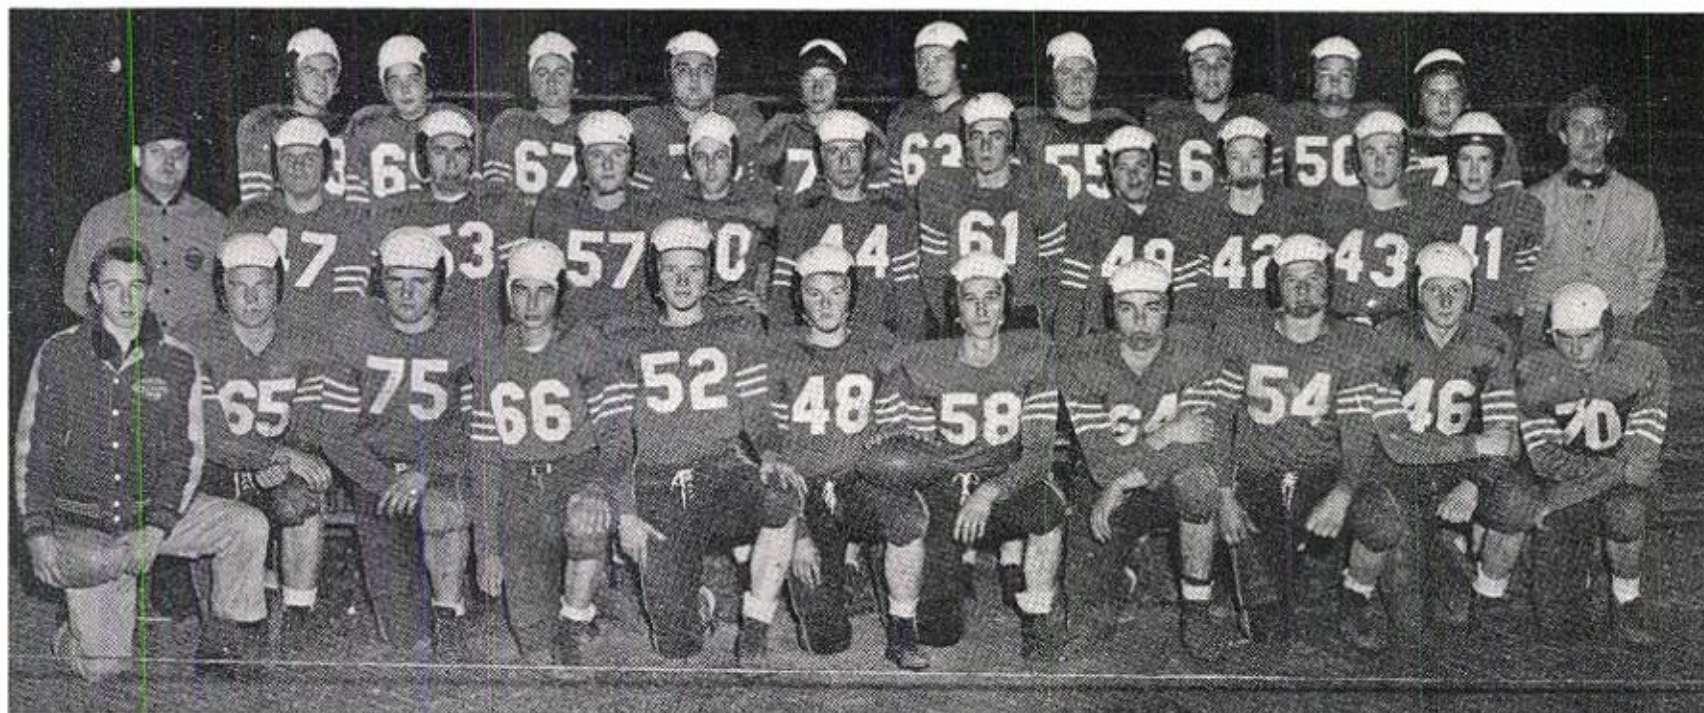

Both boys and girls engaged in competitive intramural sports such as badminton, table tennis, volleyball, and basketball.

SECTIONAL MEMBERS

From the standpoint of wins and losses the tennis squad was the top team in M. H. S. in 1950. Three members of this victorious group represented Medina in the sectionals at Rochester. Dudley Johnston took the G-O loop singles championship, and he won the sectionals also. Charles Ingersoll and James Vernon, the doubles champs of the league, reached the quarter-finals before being eliminated in the Rochester playoffs.

Two members of the Medina High School track team of 1950 participated in the track and field sections at Rochester. They first placed second in their respective events in the G-O League meet at Batavia. David McElwee ran in the 330-yard event, while Carlton Wise participated in the 880-yard run.

Joe Curtin won the finals in wrestling in the unlimited weight class for the G-O League and therefore qualified to participate in the sectionals at Rochester.

Medina Project is a topic for study by the seventh grade core classes.

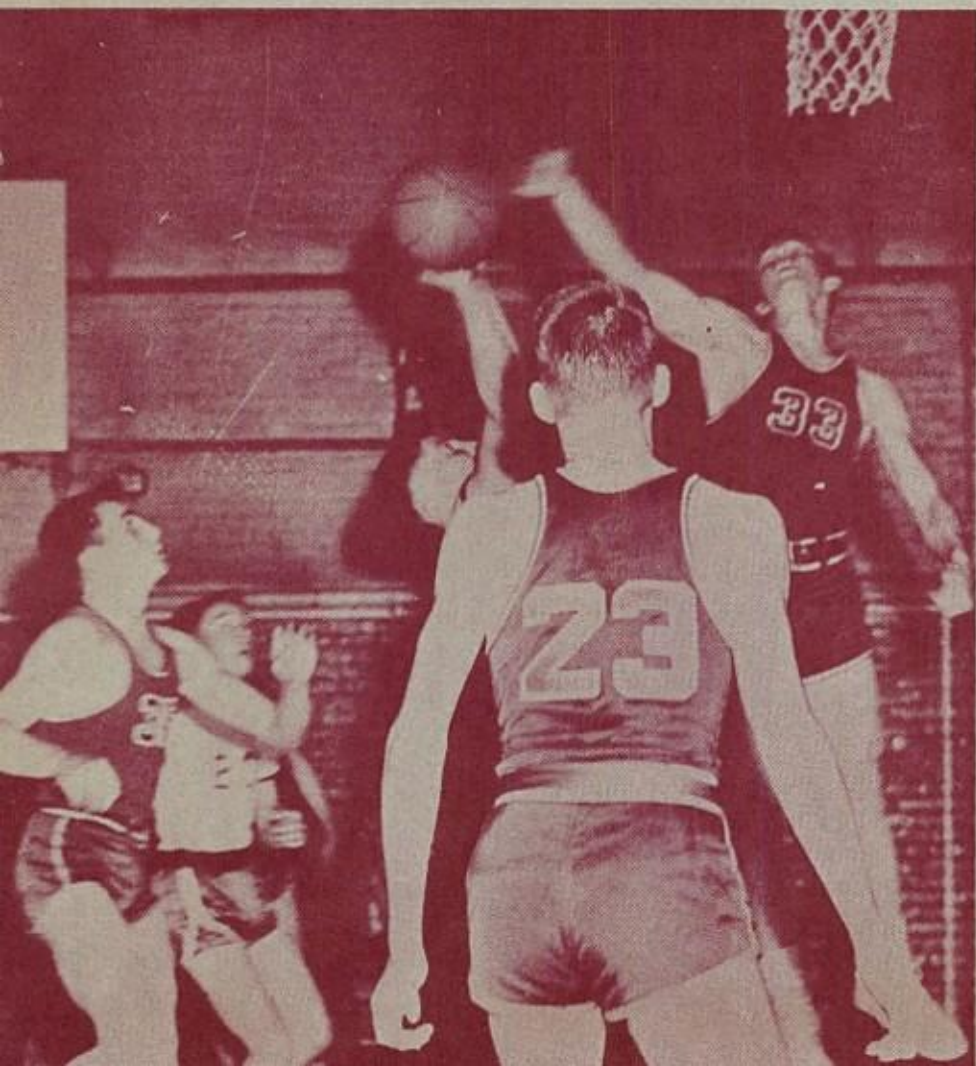

Donn Howlett, "the youngest", demands a larger allowance—t his family's disgust.

Eight outstanding juniors and seniors are chosen by their classmates.

Future homemakers make cookies to be served at the In-Service-Training programs.

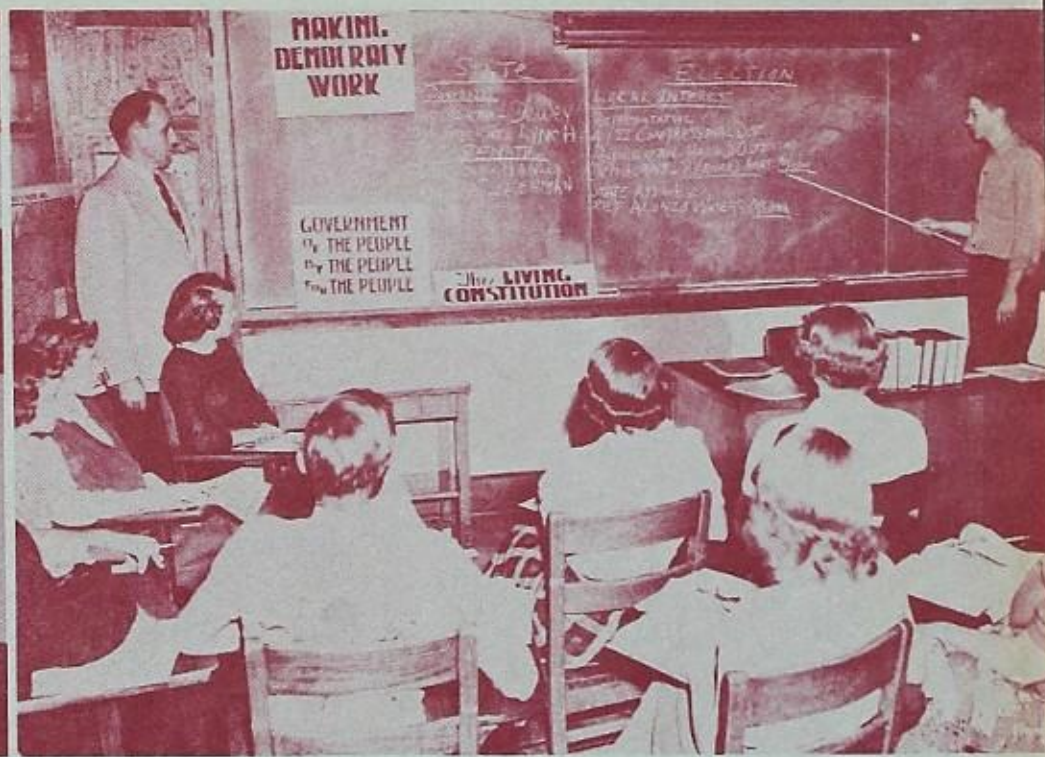

Juniors study citizenship with the help of the American Observer.

Despite interference Tom Hewitt "makes a try" for a basket.

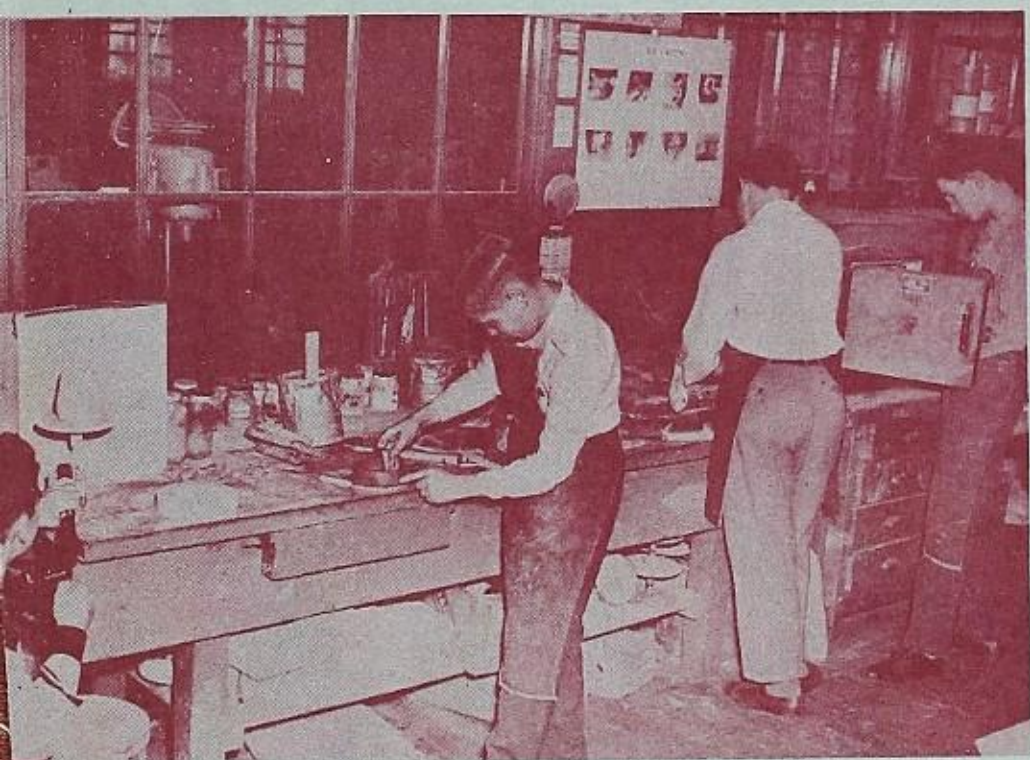

SCHOOL

To a business class, Mr. Thomas explains bookkeeping essentials.

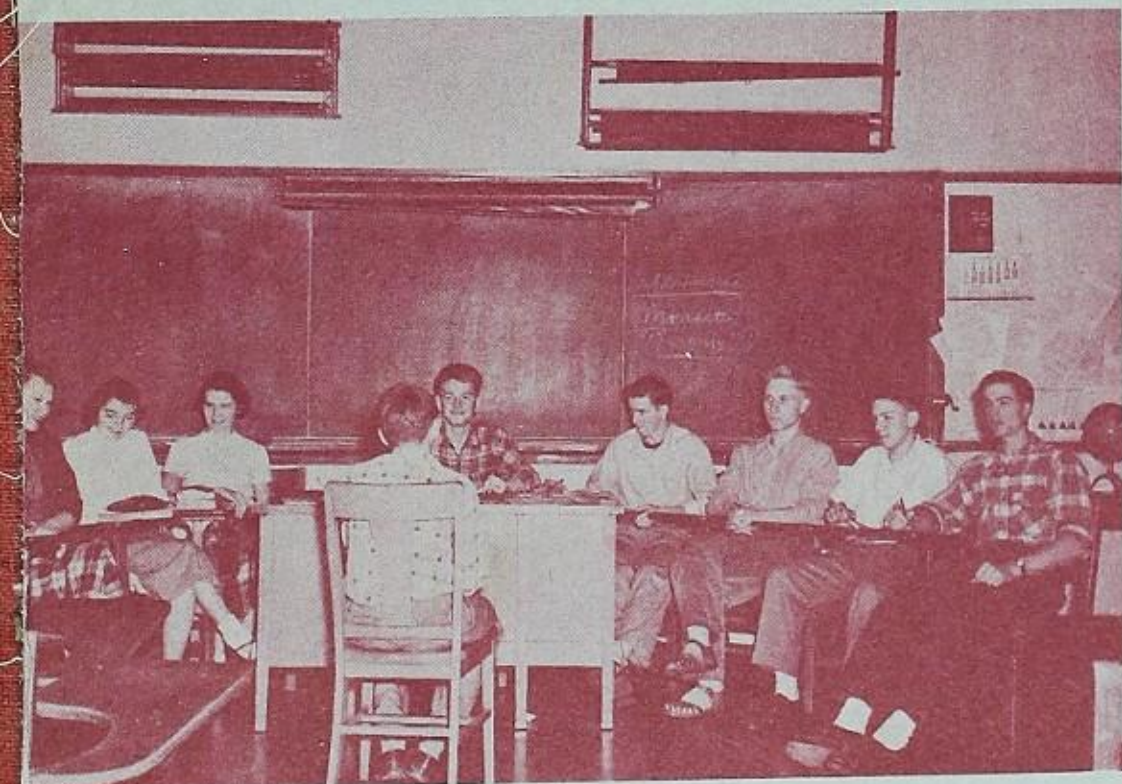

State elections are a topic of interest to an American history class.

Junior High boys find ceramics the most interesting phase of shop work.

Family life students entertain kindergarten pupils at Central School.

The Honor Court questions the witness and passes judgment.

Douglas Payne prepares the silk screen cover for the Scribblers' Magazine.
